

A DRESDEN SILVER-GILT COVERED BEAKER

A German silver-gilt covered beaker, by Christian Wilhelm Kroll, Dresden, probably 1739 on a shaped foot, decorated with Régence motifs, marks underneath the foot: town, letter-date (O) and maker's mark

Height. 19 cm, 7 ½ in, weight. 294 gr. (9.45 oz.)

Pictures

Detailed Description

Detailed information

A George III silver-gilt caddy shovel with mother-of-pearl handle made in Birmingham in 1804 by Samuel Pemberton.

An equivalent one by the same maker is at the Metropolitan Museum in New York

Samuel Pemberton | Caddy spoon | British, Birmingham | The Metropolitan Museum of Art

An another one by the same maker in the Philadelphia museum of Art

Caddy Spoon