

TREMBLEUSE, SILVER-GILT

Pictures

Detailed Description

Trembleuse, silver-gilt

TREMBLEUSE silver-gilt, glass beaker, porcelain cup – Meissen -

MARKS: Pyr in a shield above an "I" in a shield for Augsburg 1749/51

(See bibliography in Dr. H. Seling, No. 229).

MASTER: "IIA" in an oval shield for Johann Jacob Adam (Lit.s Seling 2385)

A trio of leaves resting on four scrolled feet.

An attached handle and two holders made of leaf-like, openwork rocailles, holding a cut-decorated glass beaker and a decorated Meissen porcelain cup.

Dimensions: 21 x 21 cm, weight approx.: 850 g.

PROVENANCE: Important South German private collection.

B I O G R A P H Y: Johann Jacob Adam was born around 1720 in Memmingen; he completed his masterpiece in 1748. In 1749, he married Anna Susanna Baur, and from 1762 to 1764, he was a master of showrooms. Based on the surviving works, he seems to have specialized in trembleuses for chocolate services and plats de ménage (men's dishes). for

The trembleuse was used in the 18th century for breakfast in bed to give the cup greater stability.

Detailed information